Eric K. Gressman is a Shareholder at Fowler White, bringing more than four decades of experience as a trial and appellate lawyer in high-stakes, high-volume litigation. His practice focuses on complex matters in the areas of commercial litigation, insurance, products liability, and medical malpractice.

Before entering private practice, Eric spent over 35 years at the Miami-Dade County Attorney's Office, where he served as Chief of the Torts Section. In this role, he led the defense of the County, its departments, and employees—including medical professionals at Jackson Memorial Hospital—in thousands of civil lawsuits. His work included defense of personal injury, wrongful death, medical malpractice, civil rights, employment, and complex contract matters.

Throughout his public service, Eric was lead counsel in over 500 jury and non-jury trials and more than 100 appeals in both state and federal courts. His litigation experience spans nearly every area of tort and public liability law, earning him a reputation as a formidable trial attorney and trusted advisor in government and private legal circles alike.

In recognition of his service, Eric received the Distinguished Service Award and the Award for Exemplary Service from Miami-Dade County leadership.

Eric is also deeply committed to legal education. He has served as an Adjunct Professor of Law at the University of Miami since 2010, teaching courses in legal writing, appellate advocacy, and civil litigation.

Eric leverages his litigation depth and institutional insight to deliver strategic, results-oriented counsel to clients navigating high-stakes disputes across Florida and beyond.
