Practice Focus

Cameron Eubanks is a Shareholder in the firm's Maritime and Appellate practice groups located in the Miami office. He has significant experience representing clients in federal and Florida trial and appellate courts, including all aspects of appellate practice and complex litigation support and strategy after having led the appellate group at his prior firm. Cameron focuses on significant appellate and trial-level maritime and admiralty matters and has years of experience representing all the major cruise lines in South Florida. He has experience in civil appeals, criminal appeals, and criminal post-conviction relief matters, as well as brief writing and has participated in oral arguments before Florida and federal courts. He interned for the Honorable Adalberto Jordan in the United States District Court for the Southern District, as well as the Eleventh Judicial Circuit of Florida.

Cameron received his Juris Doctor, magna cum laude, from the University of Miami School of Law. While there, he was a member of the University of Miami Law Review where his case note was chosen for publication. He was also selected to the Order of the Coif, an honor society for excellence in legal education. Cameron is a Florida native, having graduated with his B.A. in Political Science from the University of Central Florida.
